THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The SCSPE year is off to a terrific start. We had a great presentation at the September PDH luncheon by Mr. Jim Armstrong of Charleston County. Our annual licensing presentation and BBQ for the Citadel seniors was held last week, and we received great feedback from the attendees. Thanks to Mr. M.L. Love and Mr. Gary Alford for volunteering their time and expertise. Your support of the SCSPE makes this event possible. We look forward to seeing you at the October PDH luncheon for a presentation by Ms. Carolyn Kelley about STEM programs in the Lowcountry.

Kyle

PDH luncheons are an important function of our Chapter. They allow us to get together for fellowship and networking and provide education on engineering topics and development in our area. We are always on the look out for presentations that will be interesting to our diverse membership. If you have ideas for future topics or speakers, please let a board member know.

SCSPE Offers Project Management Seminar in the Upstate

SCSPE is hosting a PDH seminar November 16 in Greenville.

The seminar will be an all day Project Management session providing 7 PDHs with a break-out lunch session for 1 PDH.

This is an intense full day seminar taught by Howard Birnberg, a Project Management guru, with Birnberg & Associates. This same course is taught throughout the country. Methods taught have immediate use in most engineers' responsibilities. Moreover, these management techniques may be applied to other career and personal uses.

Please visit www.scspe.org for more information.
